

2023 EXPO Media Quotes

Attribute all quotes to
Paul P. Skoutelas,
APTA President & CEO

TRANSform & EXPO

"APTA's TRANSform and EXPO is the premier event of the $80 billion public transportation industry, showcasing the latest innovations and cutting-edge technologies. In Orlando, industry leaders will address public transportation's crucial role in solving our nation's economic, environmental, and energy challenges."

Economic Impacts

"Public transportation fuels economic growth, spurs development, and creates transit-oriented communities. Sustained, strategic investment in public transit is crucial to our nation's future global competitiveness."

Emergency Preparedness

"In times of crisis, public transportation collaborates seamlessly with emergency responders and government agencies to keep essential personnel and emergency rescue and relief teams in motion, proving its adaptability to changing community needs."

Emerging Trends

"Public transit does more than move people, it shapes the future of communities. Our industry brings together innovation and technology that can improve lives and provide a crucial component to resolving many economic and environmental challenges."

Mobility

"Public transportation is mobility, and mobility is freedom. Public transportation provides a lifeline for communities and opens more doors to Americans than ever before. Strong public transportation connects people to jobs, education, healthcare, businesses, and opportunities."

Safety & Security

"Amid ever-evolving threats, our industry continues to make great advances in technology and remains committed to the security of passengers, employees, and our communities."

Sustainability

"The public transportation industry is committed to sustainable practices and continuously explores innovative solutions to further improve its impact on the environment. Public transit not only produces green jobs, but also plays a critical role in combating climate change and reducing carbon emissions."

